We live along the creek. We started collecting the water for own drink initially.

The water are collected from different branches and locations of Gordon creek. Some places are on the hill. All collecting points are hiding in the dense vegetation, with little human interference. Most of time, the water is too clean to have fishes. The leaves from the native forests, the water plants and the rocks in the stream bed make the water natural infusion of herbs + minerals.

Our region (Far north Queensland) has the oldest continuous rainforest on Earth. Without air pollution of big cities, The rain water are commonly consumed by locals. The creeks are natural rain water tanks with additional nutrition and freshness. We are blessed to live in the fairy land in tropical Australia. We'd like to share the nature's gift with you.

We may use recycle containers to pack the water to protect the environment. The containers are disinfected. We are not selling the water as food and drink because of regulations. We simply collect the raw water for you (often on demand). You can do whatever you like with it: Some use it for skincare, some use it in cooking and tea. Some use it for study.

100% profit of the products go to environmental organizations.
